

ATL1: Atlanta

215 Industrial Drive, Maysville, Georgia USA

180 MW

total capacity

83-acre

site

$0.08 kWh

utility rate

The power to build your custom future.

Discover a leading data center development in Atlanta, Georgia. Our 83-acre site, with 180 MW of available power and planning permission secured, offers the flexibility to scale and reliable capacity.

Take advantage of a highly competitive utility rate to lower your operating costs while building an energy-efficient foundation for long-term growth. The Atlanta data center provides robust infrastructure, strategic connectivity, and future-ready expansion opportunities.

Highly scalable

Expand as your business grows. The 83-acre campus allows for-phased development and customized infrastructure solutions.

Strategic location

Access Atlanta's extensive connectivity, with strong network options and low-latency links to major markets in the Southeast and beyond.

Competitive utility rate

Lower your operating costs with a reliable electricity rate, supporting your longterm financial goals.

Robust infrastructure

This site is engineered for high-performance computing, artificial intelligence, and enterprise workloads, providing a secure and flexible foundation.

Efficient energy solutions

Align with environmental goals by operating in a region with access to renewable energy and green power initiatives.

Build your future in Atlanta.

Get in touch to discover how Ardent Data Centers backs your success with reliable infrastructure and a business-friendly environment.